

first, with the phraseology and general scope of the matter in the third and fourth points enumerated above, and second, with expressions of views as to just how far this government should go in the event of further loss of American lives from German submarines following the warning contained in the note.

It is true that the Cabinet has never squarely met and decided the question as to just what this government would do if Germany should remain utterly unresponsive to our demands. The policy enumerated in the "strict accountability" note last March has been pursued carefully and logically, but the extent to which this government would show its resentment has not been determined upon in advance, because the Cabinet realized that that question, in the last analysis, would have to be settled by public sentiment.

Public sentiment at this time, however, is not in favor of crossing that bridge until it shall have been reached. Public sentiment favors a logical continuation of this government's policy, and stops there because it has absolute confidence in the rectitude of President Wilson's course. It does not want trouble with Germany and it knows that President Wilson is aware of and is responsive to the demands of the public. The move which might be construed as a surrender of our rights, and it is aware that President Wilson has not the slightest intention of ignoring that sentiment.

A severance of diplomatic relations, to follow further injury to Americans, is as far as the probabilities go at present. Only an act of aggression on the part of Germany subsequent to such a step on our part, would bring about an actual state of war.

That the dispatch of the note may be followed, after the lapse of a reasonable time to permit Germany to change her attitude if she desires, by some step in this country which would not only be wisely precautionary, but would impress upon the German foreign office the fact that it intends to prepare for any developments, was suggested yesterday.

From a military point of view Mexico City is of no value to any of the factions. Its possession was sought by Carranza, who had determined to set up a government there, in the hope that his control of the Federal district would strengthen his claim for recognition.

News of Gen. Gonzalez's evacuation of the Mexican capital was given out by the State Department in the form of a bulletin as follows:

The department is in receipt of advice from Mexico City, dated July 18, stating that Gen. Gonzalez and his forces have unexpectedly evacuated Mexico City and its surroundings. The civil and military authorities lately appointed by Gen. Gonzalez have also left to such an extent that the city council has again assumed charge of the local government and appointed a new chief of police. The press of Mexico City states that the evacuation was caused by the necessity of retreating before the advance of the forces of the Zapatistas of a column coming from the north to help them.

To this was appended a statement issued by Gen. Gonzalez, as follows:

"In view of the fact that the enemy recently expelled from this city has been committing outrages which cause uneasiness to the inhabitants of this city, and wishing to find a remedy for such evils, I have decided to leave the city for a few days and to go out personally to combat the enemy in the meantime, civil and military authorities as well as a sufficient garrison are left in the city and surroundings in order to afford proper protection to the people."

No Carranzistas Remain.

Despite Gen. Gonzalez's statement to the contrary, advice received at the State Department indicates that he has left no garrison in the capital. The belief is strong here that the Villa forces at Pachuca, combined with other armies and the Zapatistas, presented such a formidable front that Gonzalez dared not risk battle in defense of the capital. Officials here are inclined to the opinion that a desperate battle is about to be waged outside of Mexico City, and in the event of a victory, the Villa forces will be able to move into the city and take possession of the Federal district.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

GONZALES QUILTS CITY OF MEXICO

Commander of Carranzistas Says "I Go to Combat the Enemy."

BIG BATTLE IMPENDING
Forces Evacuating Capital Probably Will Meet Villa's 'Flying Squadron' Combined with Zapatistas.

The forces of Venustiano Carranza have been compelled to vacate Mexico City, which they captured last week. The news of the retreat of the Carranzistas from Mexico City was received at the State Department yesterday from official sources. Gen. Gonzalez, the Carranza commander, issued a pronouncement to Washington, stating that he was leaving the city temporarily because of the enemy, which, he claimed, is committing outrages in the surrounding country.

Intelligence comes from other quarters that Gen. Gonzalez will have his hands full for some time to come with Villa's flying squad coming from the north and a Villista force assembled at Pachuca, which is forty miles from Mexico City.

Evacuation Blow to Carranza.
Recent indications are that Villa is gaining strength, and this means a prolongation of the struggle between the two factions in the absence of action by the United States.

From a military point of view Mexico City is of no value to any of the factions. Its possession was sought by Carranza, who had determined to set up a government there, in the hope that his control of the Federal district would strengthen his claim for recognition.

News of Gen. Gonzalez's evacuation of the Mexican capital was given out by the State Department in the form of a bulletin as follows:

The department is in receipt of advice from Mexico City, dated July 18, stating that Gen. Gonzalez and his forces have unexpectedly evacuated Mexico City and its surroundings.

The civil and military authorities lately appointed by Gen. Gonzalez have also left to such an extent that the city council has again assumed charge of the local government and appointed a new chief of police.

The press of Mexico City states that the evacuation was caused by the necessity of retreating before the advance of the forces of the Zapatistas of a column coming from the north to help them.

To this was appended a statement issued by Gen. Gonzalez, as follows:

"In view of the fact that the enemy recently expelled from this city has been committing outrages which cause uneasiness to the inhabitants of this city, and wishing to find a remedy for such evils, I have decided to leave the city for a few days and to go out personally to combat the enemy in the meantime, civil and military authorities as well as a sufficient garrison are left in the city and surroundings in order to afford proper protection to the people."

No Carranzistas Remain.

Despite Gen. Gonzalez's statement to the contrary, advice received at the State Department indicates that he has left no garrison in the capital.

The belief is strong here that the Villa forces at Pachuca, combined with other armies and the Zapatistas, presented such a formidable front that Gonzalez dared not risk battle in defense of the capital.

Officials here are inclined to the opinion that a desperate battle is about to be waged outside of Mexico City, and in the event of a victory, the Villa forces will be able to move into the city and take possession of the Federal district.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

While the Villa forces are mobilizing in the neighborhood of Mexico City, Carranza is facing another revolution in the vicinity of Vera Cruz.

ONE HUNDRED THROWN INTO MEXICO CITY'S "BASTILE"

Delayed Dispatch Tells of Start of Reign of Terror Under Newly Appointed "Committee of Public Safety."

From a special correspondent of the I. N. S. Mexico City, July 19.—A reign of terror, duplicating the terrible period of the French revolution, became a fact today, when, by orders of the recently appointed committee of public safety of the so-called sovereign convention, 100 alleged enemies of the revolution were thrown into the famous old Belem Prison, the bastille of Mexico City.

Antonio Soto y Gama, president of the committee of public safety (El Comité de Salud publica), proclaimed the news of the first of a quota of 1,000 victims that the revolutionary cause demands. He also announced that he favored the guillotine as the most effective method for punishing these enemies.

Predicts Aristocracy's Fall.
French revolution mad, the leaders of the reign of terror that has now burst upon the capital consequent upon the retirement of Roque Gonzalez Garza from the position of acting executive were proclaiming tonight that at least one in ten of the notables incarcerated today would be publicly executed.

Soto y Gama fairly foamed at the mouth as he predicted the complete scourge of the old aristocracy and the establishment of a complete new social order. Every third word that this new despot of the capital uttered was a saying of the French revolution.

He declared that the committee of public safety would entertain tomorrow a formal motion for the construction of a guillotine in the center of the Zocalo, the big plaza in front of the national palace, where the guillotine would be used to execute the enemies of the revolution.

Carranza Attack Starts.
"For many reasons and among others the scarcity of bullets it seems preferable to employ the guillotine as the instrument of execution. Blood must be shed to purge Mexico of its enemies."

Early this morning the general attack of the constitutionalists upon the capital of Carranza and San Ysidro, heavy cannonading echoed and re-echoed over the city. All the available soldiers of the capital garrison were rushed toward Cerro Gordo.

Direct Deaths' Work.
All day a spectacle of scenes of ragmuff soldiers marching well dressed prisoners through the streets threw the entire city into the wildest terror that has been experienced. Everybody having a prominent name, whether previously connected with politics or not, took to cover.

Soto y Gama and his fellow French revolutionists, Gen. Manuel Palafox, minister of agriculture, Gen. Santiago Orozco, in command of the southern army in the capital, and other leaders, their faces wreathed in smiles over this "beginning of a new chapter in the history of the revolution," as Soto y Gama put it, rode up and down the streets in confabulated limousines, personally directing the efforts of the secret police and the arresting squads.

Among the notables thrown into Belem were Reyes Spindola, at one time editor and publisher of El Imparcial, the government newspaper in the days of Diaz and Huerta; Miguel Macedo, erstwhile well-known scientist, the ex-foreign minister, and the ex-secretary of state, and Diaz Dufo, former secretary of state.

Large Numbers Doomed.
At the meeting of the committee of public safety this morning a copy of the rules and regulations governing the committee of the French revolution which bore the same name was placed in the hands of each member. It was resolved to proceed systematically to the casting of enemies of the revolution. Consideration was begun of more than 90 denunciations of these enemies.

"We have," declared President Gama, "an enormous list of names of known enemies of the republic, Porfiristas, Huertistas, and other oppressors. We do not purpose to give them time to take to their hiding places. Orders have been given to the secret police to round them up without delay. No enemy shall escape."

While the investigations must necessarily be secret, the judicial proceedings shall be held in the light of day. All enemies convicted of the major offenses against society shall be executed.

Direct Deaths' Work.
All day a spectacle of scenes of ragmuff soldiers marching well dressed prisoners through the streets threw the entire city into the wildest terror that has been experienced. Everybody having a prominent name, whether previously connected with politics or not, took to cover.

Soto y Gama and his fellow French revolutionists, Gen. Manuel Palafox, minister of agriculture, Gen. Santiago Orozco, in command of the southern army in the capital, and other leaders, their faces wreathed in smiles over this "beginning of a new chapter in the history of the revolution," as Soto y Gama put it, rode up and down the streets in confabulated limousines, personally directing the efforts of the secret police and the arresting squads.

Among the notables thrown into Belem were Reyes Spindola, at one time editor and publisher of El Imparcial, the government newspaper in the days of Diaz and Huerta; Miguel Macedo, erstwhile well-known scientist, the ex-foreign minister, and the ex-secretary of state, and Diaz Dufo, former secretary of state.

Large Numbers Doomed.
At the meeting of the committee of public safety this morning a copy of the rules and regulations governing the committee of the French revolution which bore the same name was placed in the hands of each member. It was resolved to proceed systematically to the casting of enemies of the revolution. Consideration was begun of more than 90 denunciations of these enemies.

"We have," declared President Gama, "an enormous list of names of known enemies of the republic, Porfiristas, Huertistas, and other oppressors. We do not purpose to give them time to take to their hiding places. Orders have been given to the secret police to round them up without delay. No enemy shall escape."

While the investigations must necessarily be secret, the judicial proceedings shall be held in the light of day. All enemies convicted of the major offenses against society shall be executed.

Direct Deaths' Work.
All day a spectacle of scenes of ragmuff soldiers marching well dressed prisoners through the streets threw the entire city into the wildest terror that has been experienced. Everybody having a prominent name, whether previously connected with politics or not, took to cover.

Soto y Gama and his fellow French revolutionists, Gen. Manuel Palafox, minister of agriculture, Gen. Santiago Orozco, in command of the southern army in the capital, and other leaders, their faces wreathed in smiles over this "beginning of a new chapter in the history of the revolution," as Soto y Gama put it, rode up and down the streets in confabulated limousines, personally directing the efforts of the secret police and the arresting squads.

Among the notables thrown into Belem were Reyes Spindola, at one time editor and publisher of El Imparcial, the government newspaper in the days of Diaz and Huerta; Miguel Macedo, erstwhile well-known scientist, the ex-foreign minister, and the ex-secretary of state, and Diaz Dufo, former secretary of state.

Large Numbers Doomed.
At the meeting of the committee of public safety this morning a copy of the rules and regulations governing the committee of the French revolution which bore the same name was placed in the hands of each member. It was resolved to proceed systematically to the casting of enemies of the revolution. Consideration was begun of more than 90 denunciations of these enemies.

"We have," declared President Gama, "an enormous list of names of known enemies of the republic, Porfiristas, Huertistas, and other oppressors. We do not purpose to give them time to take to their hiding places. Orders have been given to the secret police to round them up without delay. No enemy shall escape."

While the investigations must necessarily be secret, the judicial proceedings shall be held in the light of day. All enemies convicted of the major offenses against society shall be executed.

Direct Deaths' Work.
All day a spectacle of scenes of ragmuff soldiers marching well dressed prisoners through the streets threw the entire